

Radius360°[®]

Sanding Tool

The innovative Radius360° is the pole sander that can go where no other pole sander has gone before.

Don't take our word for it!

Painterschatroom.com recently conducted a product testing survey of paint and drywall professionals. 27 testers used the Radius 360 for a 2 month period.

This is what they said:

- 100% would buy the Radius360° for themselves and their employees.
- 93% found that the Radius360° increased production by 20% to 300% over their previous sanding method.
- 92% agree that our aluminum oxide, water-resistant sand paper discs last 100%-400% longer than other brands on the market.

Here are a few comments from the testers:

- The Radius360° is the best tool ever made for sanding walls between coats.
- I used this one time on an exterior paint job where I had to sand the fascia boards. This tool did quite well there. This baby has more than one use for painters.
- I was pleasantly surprised to discover a revolutionary improvement in such a basic tool. We got used to complaining about the problems associated with the old style sanding pole, and just accepted them as another of life's little gripes. The Radius360° sander is a great improvement.
- The Radius360° is highly effective and efficient. It saves time, aggravation, and money. Thank you!
- It is a great tool for experienced craftsmen and inexperienced ones too. A very nice design.
- The Radius360° is a vast improvement over the old style sanders, it does the job better, faster and much easier.
- I found the Radius360° to meet all of its claims. Most importantly, once I used this tool I realized not only how much labor time I could save, but how much less physical strain there would be on my staff. Bottom line is increased quality, increased production and employees who are physically less strained.
- Once you try a 360 you will be hooked and it will be your only pole sander.
- This will revolutionize the industry.
